I would like to know the numbers in pupils currently attending primary school in Edinburgh which have been identified as being highly able including which area of the curriculum high ability has been identified.

Unfortunately, we are unable to provide you with the information you have requested as the cost to the Council of locating, retrieving and providing you with the information exceeds the statutory maximum of £600.

There is no specific field on our system to record this information, so we have no record of this detail centrally. Each class teacher would have to respond about the children in their class, however there is no guarantee the teachers will have this information recorded as there is no requirement to do so.

Across the 89 Primary Schools, we have 1202 primary classes. It is estimated that to collect this information from each class would take around 15 minutes. Therefore, this task would take 300.5 hours.
