Hi [REDACTED],

We've stopped providing informal / pre-app advice on potential non-material variations and expect these to be submitted and then formally assessed.

Guidance on the NMV process can be found in the link below:

<https://www.edinburgh.gov.uk/planning-applications-1/apply-planning-permission/6>

We can sometimes take substations as a NMV as part of a wider scheme. I've only had a quick look at the drawing provided and this appears to be in on a fairly prominent area within the public realm and does not appear to be well integrated into the development. An alternative location may be required.

I've not considered the other points bulleted in your email.

Kind regards
