The City of Edinburgh Council have been one of the last LA to reopen cultural and historic venues since the new policies were put in place allowing venues to reopen from August of this year.

To arrange for the release of all project/programme management documents in relation to the reopening (or continued closure) of the sites I mentioned – please, for the period of time specified in my request, release include all relevant risk registers, highlight reports etc. Specifically, I note that the document entitled ‘Re-opening the Museum of Edinburgh’ contains the sentence “We have extensive plans including risk assessments, route plans, staff rotas, etc, all of which have been produced to comply with current government guidelines.” Please release these risk assessments and any of these “extensive plans” which include a reference to decisions needing to be made on financial resourcing.
