

37786 111 Holyrood Road

In relation to premises at 111 Holyrood Road, what is the boundary between private land and land owned or managed by the City of Edinburgh Council, including Holyrood Road, Jackson's Entry and Gentle's Entry?

In terms of land ownership, the Council's ownership records show that we do not own any land around 111 Holyrood Road (see attached plan). Historically this area looks as if it was part of the original brewery site which has now been developed and split into several titles.

With regard to what is maintained by the Council, please refer to the link provided below which shows the adopted network map on the Council's external website where we now publish adoption information via an online map interface with printing capabilities. This map shows only what is adopted/maintained by the Roads Authority.
