

38834

Since 1 October 2021, how many Pre-packed for Direct Sale (PPSD) food businesses have been inspected to ascertain compliance with food labelling laws? Specifically, in relation to the requirements introduced from Natasha's Law?

The information requested is not recorded in a format that allows for pre-packed for direct sale businesses to be identified.

Since 1 October 2021, how many PPCD food businesses within your local authority area have been found to be non-compliant with food labelling laws?

As above, no details can be established.

Since April 2020 until June 2022, please can you detail any support that has been provided and/or made available to local PPCD food businesses to support compliance with allergen labelling legislation?

Individual businesses will be given advice and information during inspection and if advice requested as a service request.

Since April 2020 until June 2022, can you state the number of PPCD food businesses you have provided support to in relation to compliance with allergen labelling legislation?

As above, information is not available to allow the businesses to be identified.

Please can you detail any changes to environmental health /or food enforcement activities your organisation has implemented in response to Natasha's Law?

The City of Edinburgh Council has moved to Food Law Rating Scheme interventions since inspections restarted in October 2021, this requires a food safety and food standards inspection to be completed at each inspection where food labelling laws would be discussed.

How many breaches of allergen labelling compliance have you been notified of from within your Local Authority area since October 2021?

There have been 22 alleged breaches reported to Environmental Health.