

57263 Management of Highway Structures

Please confirm whether your local authority directly employs a chartered civil or structural engineer - an individual with CEng MICE or CEng MIStructE - responsible for, or advising on the management of your highway's structures (i.e., on your authority's payroll, not an outsourced contractor)? And if so, how should they best be contacted?

We confirm that Chartered Civil Engineers are employed by the City of Edinburgh Council within the Structures Department, who are responsible for the management of highway structures owned by the City of Edinburgh Council.

The team can be contacted at bridges.structures@edinburgh.gov.uk.
