To respond to your request fully, we would have to manually search each complaint record in each year. We estimate that to review and collate one record would take approximately 30 minutes. Therefore, to respond to the 1,280 complaints in the requested timeframe, this would take 640 hours for an officer to manually review and collate. Charging a rate of £15 per hour, it would cost £9,600 to fully respond to your request.
