

57846 Minutes of the Education, Children and Families Committee

Education authorities have a duty to consult with parents and carers on the delivery of early learning and childcare at least once every two years.

Minutes of the Education, Children and Families Committee notes the last survey was carried out in November 2023.

I would like to request that you provide me with the consultation, the full results, the final report and any documents pertaining to analysis of the consultation.
