

59449

How many wheelchair accessible taxi licences are currently available for drivers to put on service in Edinburgh?

All taxi vehicles licensed by the City of Edinburgh Council require to be wheelchair accessible. The current cap on the number of taxi vehicles is 1,316 and as reported to the Council's Regulatory Committee on 1 December 2025, the number of taxi vehicle licences in effect is significantly lower. 1,078 taxi licences were in effect as of 1 November 2025, leaving 238 taxi plates available to new applicants. A further update on the number of licensed wheelchair accessible taxis will be provided in the Regulatory Committee Business Bulletin considered on 30 January 2026, the Bulletin and other agenda items will be published here in the week before the Committee meeting.