How much income is generated as a direct result of adult education at Cameron House?

The Citywide Adult Education Programme (AEP) is organised centrally and delivered in Community Centres and other venues across the city, The income after costs is accounted against the budgeted income target for the Adult Education Programme.

The amount generated varies from term to term and year to year depending on the number of classes offered, the number of people attending and the number of participants qualifying for a reduced fee.

The most recent available income for Cameron House after tutor costs is £9309.23 over 2 terms. This does not take account of other costs associated with running the adult education programme.
