

60916 East Newington Place, Edinburgh - Petroleum Enquiry

As the petroleum enforcement authority for Edinburgh, please can you confirm if you have any historic or active petroleum storage information for 4B, East Newington Place, Edinburgh, EH9 1QP. We are completing a Phase 1 Environmental Assessment for the Site.

We have been able to locate 1 x 1000-gallon tank sunk in 1926 and was decommissioned in 1984 in the zone outlined in the map provided, regarding the current or derelict petroleum tanks for the area surrounding 4 East Newington Place, Edinburgh.

In addition, the tank was encased with 9-inch brick at the side, infilled with sand then covered with a concrete roof. The tank was degassed in 1984 and the department advised that the tank be decommissioned with concrete slurry. A map for your guidance is also attached.