A copy of the authority's policy or guidance on the calculation of the capacity of primary schools.

Primary School capacity is based on the Scottish Government recommended class sizes for each year group and number of main teaching classrooms available. Therefore a 2 stream Primary School with 14 classrooms would have a capacity of $(2 \times 25) + (4 \times 30) + (8 \times 33) = 434$. However, specific schools may have slight variations to these numbers as actual physical space recommendations may limit maximum numbers. In addition, where composite classes are formed, these are also limited to 25. Suggested links for information and guidance used:
