Headline	EVENING UPDATE: NO CHANGE - RSTs BELOW ZERO
Confidence	MODERATE

General Synopsis
Remaining dry with clear spells this evening and into the early hours of the night, allowing RSTs to fall below zero with the risk of hoar frost in places. Cloud amounts then building from the northwest, ahead of a spell of light rain moving in during the latter stages of the night, initially falling as light sleet for a time. There is the risk of icy stretches where precipitation falls on sub-zero road surfaces. Increasingly breezy. Cloudy with light rain or drizzle tomorrow morning. Reduced confidence due to some uncertainty in the timing of RST recovery ahead of any precipitation.

Snow Summary
None.
