Between 1st September 2025 and 30th August 2026 how many applications for pre-application advice relating to listed buildings did you respond to?

Information not held. The Council does not record whether a PREAPP is related to a listed building.

Between 1st September 2025 and 30th August 2026 what was the council's total revenue from fees for pre-application enquiries relating to listed buildings?

Information not held. As we do not record whether a PREAPP is related to a listed building, we do not hold information on the revenue from fees. Standalone routine advice for listed building consent is not covered by our pre-applications service.

Between 1st September 2015 and 30th August 2016 what was the council's total receipts from fees for pre-application enquiries relating to listed buildings?

Information not held. As we do not record whether a PREAPP is related to a listed building, we do not hold information on the receipts from fees.

What are your current fees (or scale of fees) for pre-application enquiries for listed buildings?

We do not have fees for pre-application enquiries for listed buildings. The pre-application advice is for customers who anticipate making an 'application for planning permission' as set out in the introduction section of the Customer Service Guide. Therefore, the pre-application fee is based on the scale of development as detailed in section 5 of this guide. Whilst some developments may involve works to a listed building, it is the scale of development that sets the fee.

Do you provide free pre-application advice for minor enquiries such as "do I need listed building consent to paint my front door"?

No, as this would fall within our generic advice. Customers can access this free guidance on the Council's planning website and via the planning helpdesk, to assess whether their proposals align with planning policies.
