65085 Domestic Abuse Governance & Information Sharing Arrangements

In your organisation does your local authority operate a standalone Domestic Abuse Board?

No.

If not, please state how domestic abuse governance is structured (e.g., part of a Community Safety Partnership or other multi agency board).

Domestic abuse is the responsibility of all Edinburgh's Public Protection Committees that service activity in relation to domestic abuse. These committees are: the Equally Safe Edinburgh Committee; Offender Management Committee; Child Protection Committee; Adult Protection Committee. They report to the Chief Officer's Group quarterly and annually. Justice Services also report to the Scottish Government in their annual returns. Please see links to these committees below:

Edinburgh Child Protection Committee – The City of Edinburgh Council

Edinburgh Adult Protection committee – The City of Edinburgh Council

Does the relevant Board or partnership have an Information Sharing Agreement (ISA) specific to domestic abuse?

The Council holds reporting ISAs, but not specific to domestic abuse. Our ISAs are inclusive of all activities undertaken by the Edinburgh Public Protection Committee, as named above.

If an Information Sharing Agreement exists for your Domestic Abuse Board, and if possible, please provide a blank copy.

Not applicable.
